From the Chairperson's Desk

I am delighted to present the seventh issue of the Newsletter of the Authority for the period October – December, 2014. A National workshop on “Enhancing Understanding & Implementation of the International Treaty on Plant Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture (ITPGRFA) in India” was organized on 17-18 November, 2014 at Deendayal Research Institute, Chitrakoot. This workshop was participated by Senior Officers of Department of Agriculture & Co-operation including Shri A.K. Srivastava, Additional Secretary and Shri R.K. Singh, Joint Secretary (Seeds). This workshop was jointly organized by Protection of Plant Varieties and Farmers' Rights Authority; Department of Agriculture and Co-operation, Govt. of India; ICAR-National Bureau of Plant Genetic Resources; Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations and Deendayal Research Institute, Chitrakoot to enhance the awareness and understanding of the ITPGRFA among the stakeholders. A National Exhibition of seeds, planting material and the agro-products of the traditional varieties, landraces, folk varieties conserved by farmers, NGOs, KVKs, SAUs etc. was also arranged side by side which attracted lot of intellectuals, students including farmers of the nearby villages. The status of applications received and certificates issued in respect of farmers' varieties since inception is on page 2-3.

The Authority has received more than 8600 applications for registration and a record number of 1737 certificates of registration have been issued by Authority. Maximum number of certificates were issued under Extant notified category (831) followed by farmers varieties (511). There is still need to increase the participation and response of the public sector (SAUs and ICAR Institutes) for the protection of their already released and notified varieties (u/s 5 of the Seeds Act, 1966) which are registerable under the category of Extant notified varieties (ENVs) of PPV&FR Act, 2001. It is expected that 15-20%* (*As indicated Trends of registration of Extant Varieties) of the released and notified varieties have been applied for the registration. Obviously, there are many reasons for this gap and the process of registration could be expedited by the motivation of concerned scientists by the Director (Research), SAUs / Project Coordinator(s) / Project Directors of the ICAR Institutes on a constant basis. Main reason for non-registration of extant variety by the SAUs mostly is due to lack of awareness / importance of Act with them and this can be avoided by organizing awareness / capacity building programmes for the students and scientists. Constrains regarding availability of sufficient budgets with the State Agricultural Universities for payment of requisite fee for registration is an another factor responsible for non-registration of extant variety by the SAUs. This problem could be resolved through AICRP by keeping a budgetary provision for registration of extant varieties. However, the Authority has taken the awareness drive on massive scale and the information about the provisions of the PPV&FR Act including farmers' rights, registration of varieties, conservation of Plant Genetic Resources, PGSC Awards, Rewards and Recognitions for educating the stakeholders have been made in close coordination with SAUs / KVKs network across the country is already on.

I am thankful to all concerned including my officers and staff for their valued support and co-operation. I once again invite your valuable suggestions and comments, if any, for the improvement of the content and quality of the Newsletter

Legal Matter

Decision of the Hon’ble High Court of Delhi on registration of parental line extant hybrids: The Hon’ble High Court of Delhi has upheld the order of the Ld. Registrar that parental lines of extant hybrids cannot be considered under the new category. The judgement of Ld. Registrar and of Hon’ble Delhi High Court are of landmark in nature as they are against ever-greening of plant variety protection. This judgement has facilitated the plant breeding in big way as parental lines of extant hybrids have to be filed within time specified under the law otherwise they will go into the public domain and enrich the gene pool. The detailed order of Delhi High Court may be accessed on the PPV&FR Authority Website:- plantauthority.gov.in.
