NOTICE

Sub: Order dated 24.05.2012 passed by Ld. Registrar on the issue of Parental lines.

The Ld. Registrar by this order dated 24.05.2012 has held as follows:-

“Based on the aforesaid reasonings, I hereby conclude that legally and logically if the hybrid falls under the category of extant variety about which there is common knowledge then its parental lines cannot be treated as new variety and the said parental lines can be considered for registration under the category of extant variety provided they satisfy the other conditions laid down under the law. If the earliest hybrid developed out of the parental lines fall under the new variety category then its parental lines can also be considered for registration as new variety provided if such parental lines are filed within a period of one year from the date of commercialization of earliest hybrid.

These applications which are the subject matter of hearing are at various stages of examination. Accordingly, in light of the reasoning and conclusion given above the Registry is directed to consider and proceed further with these applications in accordance with law”

Approval of general guidelines regarding the registration of EDVs under Section 23 of PPV&FR Act, 2001 read with Rule 35 of PPV&FR Rules, 2003.

The PPV&FR Authority in its 23rd Authority Meeting has approved the following guidelines for registration of EDVs and the same are provided hereunder:-

1. Candidate varieties of EDVs would need to be tested for one year at two locations for the group of traits not affected by the trait of derivation that is, insect resistance under protected and natural conditions along with their respective IVs.
2. For EDV of which IV is in public domain, the variety being considered for registration shall be IV for another variety derived from that variety. Application and prior registration of an IV is a pre-requisite for any variety to be considered of its EDV or otherwise it can be considered as a new/extant variety normally. The application should contain following-
3. Confirmation of the Event and gene protein expression data.
4. No objection Certificate (NOC) for using the event from the concerned Technology Provider.
5. The comparative data on bio efficacy, agronomic and pest infestation (both under protected and unprotected environments if the transgene imparts resistance to diseases/pest resistance) along with the respective IV as a comparator, generated preferably by the public sector.
6. Comparative photographs of IV and EDV on the same scale and stage showing distinctness between IV and EDV. However, when the derived trait causes an effect that may cascade into major differences between the IV and EDV under natural conditions where the derived trait is expressing, photographs to ascertain their similarity in other traits need to be provided under controlled conditions such that the derived trait expression is not apparent between IV and EDV (in a trial for a trait that is stress resistance related, the trial should be protected from the concerned stress to establish the similarity between IV and EDV as in the case of a disease, pest, abiotic stress resistant EDV derived from a susceptible IV).

7. An affidavit from the applicant that the data submitted by the applicant are correct and reliable.

8. GEAC permission for commercial release of the hybrid/variety.

9. Comparative statement of EDV and IV as per DUS test specific guidelines (under protected and unprotected environments if transgene impart disease/pest resistance).

Sub:- Guidelines relating to registration of EDVs- Under section 23 of PPV&FR Act, 2001 read with Rule 35 of PPV&FR Rules, 2003.

Under section 23 of PPV&FR Act, 2001 read with Rule 35 of PPV&FR Rules, 2003, the PPV&FR Authority in its 29th Meeting has approved the guidelines relating to registration of the EDVs which are as follows:-

1. In case of the act of essential derivation happens on parent (s), therefore while establishing whether a hybrid is essentially derived or not, the DUS characterization of essentially derived hybrid (EDH) should be done along with original hybrid, essentially derived parent(s) and original parent(s) for example, in a single cross hybrid if both parents are essentially derived, the DUS characterization has to be undertaken on P1 (Initial variety-IV), EDV-P1, P2(Initial variety-IV), EDV-P2 and the original hybrid (P1 X P2), EDH (EDV-P1 X EDV- P2). Seeds of original parents, EDV-Parent(s) and their respective hybrids needs to be submitted by applicants for DUS testing. The protection to hybrids can be only ensured through parents therefore, while protecting hybrids, it is mandatory to protect parents as a package irrespective of whether the hybrid is a new hybrid or essentially derived hybrid.
2. In case of Cytoplasmic Genetic Male Sterile (CGMS) lines, all the lines viz., original A-line, B-line and R-line should be submitted along with their respective EDVs for testing.
3. Along with DUS characterization, a thorough characterization of EDV/EDH with respect to the trait which is the act of derivation is a must to ascertain the value of EDV/EDH.
4. In addition to DUS data, supporting evidence with molecular data on recovery of Recurrent Parent Genome (RPG) i.e initial variety (IV) must be provided by the applicant, where genomic markers resources are available as authenticated by DDG (CS), DDG (Hort) of ICAR and Director, Forest Research Institute. In consultation with these authorities, The Registrar General with the approval of the Chairperson will fix a Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) for molecular profiling along with threshold for RPG on case-to-case basis for each species. Such data may be provided by the applicant or further verified by the Authority on outsource basis upon payment of appropriate fee by the applicant.

5. In case an application is filed under EDV category and its IV is in public domain, majority of members agreed that said EDV shall be considered for registration under New/VCK category only and shall become an IV for future derivation.

Sub:- Public Notice under Section 20(1) of PPV&FR Act, 2001.

The guidelines/procedure for DUS testing of a hybrid variety compulsorily with its parental lines in the case of seed propagated notified plant species a) Only applications for DUS testing of single cross hybrids produced through inbred parental mating shall be accepted for registration, as a three-way crossed or double crossed or multiparent chain-crossed hybrid can never be identically reproduced by mating the same parents to establish stability and uniformity parameters in the resultant hybrid.

b. A hybrid variety will be registered as a compound registration with same REG numerals for the hybrid variety, parental lines (A, B, R or A, B combination as the case may be), but each genotype shall be specifically designated with suffix alphanumeric digit/s in the last digit/s indicating the identity of the parent or hybrid. REG number of the Hybrid which shall carry 'H' as suffix as the last digit in its REG number, while A, B and R will be suffixed with parents as required when cytoplasmic male sterility (CMS) system is involved where A parent would be described as (Male sterile), B as (Maintainer of A) and R as (Restorer), and P1 (Female), P2 (Male) when two parents are involved with the same REG number.

c. Only single registration fee will be charged for the hybrid system registration while, depending on the number of parents of the hybrid that require DUS testing (exceptions are when one of the parents is already registered as a variety or as a parent of another hybrid, or when both parents are already registered as varieties or as parents of two different hybrids, respectively, in which case these parents do not need DUS testing, but shall need only hybrid production verification) , the testing fees shall be charged separately for each of the parents and their hybrid.

d. The certificates with the compound set shall be separately issued for each parent and hybrid indicating the denomination of the hybrid/hybrids in the case of parents and denominations of all the parents in the case of hybrid.

e. If one or more than one involved parent is already a registered variety or a parent of other hybrid/hybrids registered, the same would be indicated retaining the original and earliest REG and Certificate serial numbers as well as date of registration of the variety or parent, as the case may be, mentioning the name of all the hybrids including the latest candidate hybrid. The date of earliest registration of such parental line or variety shall be retained also on the candidate hybrid for validity of the protection period of the candidate hybrid variety being limited to the parental line/variety registered earliest. The period of protection shall be mentioned on the certificate of the hybrid as the date of valid period of protection of the earliest registered parental line/variety.

f) The candidate Hybrid variety and its parental lines (2 or 3 as the case may be) will be separately DUS tested as required (please see c above). The hybrid shall be tested at the notified DUS centres of the hybrid for two seasons while its parents shall be tested for two years by the PPVFRA centre/s maintaining confidentiality. The second year testing of the hybrid and parents shall comprise two plots of the candidate hybrid and parents at respective location/s of which one will be from the hybrid and parental seed produced by the Authority and the other as supplied by the applicant. f) If a candidate hybrid variety or any of the parent/parents under DUS testing fails on Uniformity test, and in the case of parent/parents on Stability test, then the hybrid along with its parents that generated it shall be rejected.

g. If a candidate hybrid variety passes Uniformity and fails on distinctiveness with a reference Hybrid or other Hybrid varieties, and the candidate Hybrid's parents show distinctiveness with other inbreds/parents as well as parents of registered or reference Hybrids, then the Hybrid + parents qualify for protection as the hybrid shall be a genotypically distinct product from the reference/registered Hybrids and shall therefore be registered on the basis of genotypic distinguishability as (where genotyping as a special test shall be taken up as per Rule 29(b), at additional cost to the applicant as an option to obtain registration) . However, when parents/parent of an otherwise distinct uniform candidate hybrid do not pass DUS testing for distinctiveness with reference parents/inbreds or parents of other registered/reference Hybrids, then upon confirmation that the candidate Hybrid produced from such non-distinct parents are indeed distinct, then the involved parents and candidate Hybrid are also eligible for protection and shall be registered after special genotyping special test of the non-distinguishable parents/inbreds. The product distinct hybrid itself becomes a verification as a special test result of the involved non-distinguishable parents in case genotyping is not possible due to lack of genomic resources in the species. In such cases two sets of hybrids shall be produced by involving the two non-distinguishable parents in two crosses with the other distinct parent of the candidate hybrid. The hybrids thus produced shall be more likely distinctive if the two non-distinguishable parents differed genotypically. The cost of such hybrid seed production by the Authority shall be payable by the applicant of the candidate hybrid as a matter of choice for obtaining registration of the hybrid and parental varieties.

h. If the hybrid is rejected on account of uniformity, but any of the parent or parents pass the DUS, such parent or parents can be registered as new variety, varieties with the option to be exercised by the applicant with the deposit of additional registration fee as the case may be, but shall be designated as "inbred variety" not be referred to the Hybrid system

h. Accordingly, dependent on the outcome decided by the Registrar, there would be registration certificate issued as follows with one REG group for one hybrid system including the hybrid and parents involved, however, keeping separate individual serial number on each certificate to facilitate separate licensing option of each parent as desired by the registered breeder:

i). Hybrid : (DENOMINATION e.g. RRH 2021) SI No. 000001, REG No. (year)0001H (Hybrid Variety) with following description in parantheses:

[Parents of the Hybrid (as the case may be), e.g., XML19A(REG No.(year)0001A

(Male sterile), XML19B (REG No.(year)0001B (Maintainer), SRR12 (REG No.(year) 0001R (Restorer)]

ii). Parent 1: XML19A SI No.000002, REG No. (year) 0001A(Male sterile) [Female parent of Hybrid RRH 2021 (REG No. (year)0001H)

iii). Parent 2: XML19B SI No.000003, REG No. (year) 0001B(Maintainer) (Male sterility maintainer parent of Hybrid RRH 2021 (REG No. (year)0001H)

iv). Parent 3: SRR12 SI No.000004 (REG No.(year) 0001R (Restorer)
(Male fertility restorer parent of Hybrid RRH 2021 (REG No. (year)0001H)

If any parent is already registered, for e.g. Parent SRR12 in the above case, then its certificate shall carry the following numbering system :

Parent 3: SRR12 SI No.000004 (REG No.(year) 0001R (Restorer)

(Male fertility restorer parent of Hybrid KKH 2016 (REG No. (2016)0045H)

i. Each certificate shall essentially carry in bold an item following the denomination description, as

REGISTRATION VALID TILL : _____

j. The validity period of registration of seed propagated non-perennial hybrid shall be as follows (as on 10.05.201):

New Hybrid Variety: 15 years if none of the parents involved is previously registered. If one or more of the parents is previously registered, the validity period of the hybrid will be that of the earliest parent.

k. This comes into force with immediate effect and is applicable to applications which are yet to be registered also. Henceforth, a hybrid will be tested only with its parents and vice-versa. In case of hybrids advertised in Plant Variety Journal, for inviting oppositions, these shall be registered subject to the testing of parental lines. In case the involved parents of a hybrid are in public domain or are obtained through license or outsourcing under agreement of non-disclosure or agreement of non accessibility to IP protection, then in such case the parents as well as the hybrids resulting shall not be eligible for protection. However, in case of such new hybrids one of whose parents is in public domain then the hybrid with the other parent will be eligible for protection.

PUBLIC NOTICE

(20 of 2019)

Sub:- Regulation 6 of PPV&FR Regulations, 2006 - Criteria of DUS for Extant Varieties Notified under Section 5 of Seeds Act, 1966

The following criteria for Distinctiveness, Uniformity and Stability for registration of Extant Varieties Notified under Section 5 of Seed Act (1966) and under Section 14, Rule 29 (4) and Regulation 6 under PPVFR Act (2001) was approved by the Members.

1. The Guidelines shall be referred to the descriptors for recording of observations of the concerned crop along with the Trial/Evaluation system of the Variety for notification under the Section 5 of Seed Act (1966).
2. The trial for evaluation (VCU) itself should either be comprised of a reference variety as claimed by the Applicant or other qualifying/check varieties be considered whose DUS data are recorded by the evaluation centres along with that on the candidate variety. This information shall be part of the application at 'IQ (Item No 8 Form I/II, Regulation 6).
3. DUS descriptor data shall be made available as replicated data for at least two years from two locations where the evaluation trials are organized. Certified copy/ies of such information comprising data sheet as recorded duly signed by the Trial in-Charge or copy of the printed official proceedings or e-published data from official website or d.o.i. link of the e-version of the data record by the organization conducting the trials, shall have to be enclosed by the Applicant.

4. If there is no acceptability to the status of reference variety as defined in the Guidelines, then the Registrar shall utilize the database on DUS testing of the hitherto candidate or reference or registered varieties for declaring the Distinctiveness of the extant notified variety. This shall be reviewed by the ENVRC before recommending the decision of registrability to the Authority.
5. Since fresh seed is necessarily submitted each season for each variety promoted for testing for second and/or third year the observations of the evaluation system on absence of segregation/variants in the trials of the candidate variety shall suffice for establishing the Uniformity and Stability criteria of the variety. Certified copy/ies of such information comprising data sheet as recorded duly signed by the Trial in-Charge or copy of the printed official proceedings or e-published data from official website or d.o.i. link of the e-version of the data record by the organization conducting the trials, shall have to be enclosed by the Applicant.
6. Information submitted by the Applicant on DUS related data without link or attachment to the original documentation of the testing centres shall not be acceptable and such applications shall not be accepted for registration.
7. No application under extant notified category shall be accepted if the date of filing of the same exceeds a total period of 18 years in the case of vines and trees, and 15 years in the case of others respectively, from the date of Notification under the Seed Act (1966), or the authorised period for registration of the extant notified variety of the corresponding notified species, as notified in the Gazette of India from time to time.

There is no technical problem here since VCU is primary task, making any variety which passes that only shall come up for protection. Hence the reference variety shall only be the other qualifiers or latest released varieties which are automatically the checks. This decision was a majority decision with one vote against.

AMENDMENTS IN PUBLIC NOTICE (01 of 2019)

Sub:- Amendments in Public Notice 01 of 2019.

(1) In the Public Notice No.1 of 2019, the following amendments shall be effected with immediate effect namely:-

(a) For the existing subject of the Public Notice No.01 of 2019 the following subject shall be substituted namely:-

“Sub:-Public Notice under Section 20(1) of PPV&FR Act, (2001) read with Section 2(x) and Section 2(za) of PPV&FR Act, (2001).”

(b) After the subject the following preamble shall be inserted namely:-

“Whereas the hybrid has no independent existence as a variety (as defined in section 2(za) of PPV&FR Act, (2001) apart from its parents and this technical/ legal position is clear from Clause (i) and (iii) of Section 2(za) of the PPV&FR Act, (2001) while defining a “variety” it clearly provides that a variety has to be considered as a genotype of plant grouping and as a unit with regard to its suitability for being propagated which remains unchanged after such propagation and further , the Section 2(x) defines “seed” as an embryo giving rise to a plant which is true to such type. The seed from a hybrid cannot give rise to a plant which is true to such hybrid type unless it is produced by crossing of parents. Hence, a cumulative and combined reading of Section 2(za) and Section 2(x) of PPV&FR Act, 2001 clearly provides that a hybrid must be considered as a unit along with its parents and there is no question of considering the hybrid without its parents so that the right holder breeder or his agent or licensee to exercise plant breeder's right as in Section 28(1) of PPV&FR Act, 2001 to produce the hybrid variety which in turn has to satisfy and retain the DUS criteria as laid down under Section 15(3) of PPV&FR Act, (2001) from the crop grown from the seed produced as above. Further under Section 20(1) of PPV&FR Act, 2001 the Registrar may after making such inquiry as he thinks fit with respect to the particulars contained in the application, accept the application absolutely or subject to such conditions or limitations as he deems fit. Accordingly, in case of an application for registration of a hybrid, the Registrar has to make an inquiry as to DUS criteria of the variety as contained in the application (Section 20(1) read with Section 15(3) of PPV&FR Act, (2001)) as he thinks fit and since variety in Section 2(za) of PPV&FRA is considered as a unit with regard to its suitability for being propagated and hybrid cannot be propagated without parents and hence to satisfy and comply with the sine qua non requirements of the PV&FR Act, (2001) it is essential that hybrids and parental lines must be applied, examined and registered together. Accordingly, this public notice is being issued to clarify this technical/legal position and to align the existing procedure along with this technical/ legal position."

- (c) In para (k) for the words " However, in case of such new hybrids one of whose parents is in public domain then the hybrid with the other parent will be eligible for protection" the following words shall be substituted namely:

"In case of a new hybrid one of whose parents is in public domain then such hybrid and its parent in public domain will not be eligible for protection. The other parent can qualify as an "inbred" variety provided other conditions laid down under Section 15(3) of PPV&FR Act, (2001) are satisfied."

(10 of 2020)

Sub: - Lockdown period not to be included while computing novelty for new varieties under Section 15(3)(a) of PPV&FR Act, 2001- Extension of time limit for registration of extant varieties - Supersession of earlier Public Notice No.5 of 2020-Reg.

Due to worldwide and nationwide lockdown to contain COVID-19, numerous difficulties have been expressed in computation of period of novelty in the case of new varieties and also to extend the time for filing of registration of extant varieties. With a view to resolve this, a self-contained public notice is issued in case of both within India and outside India.

a) WITHIN INDIA -NOVELTY

In cases of submission of application for registration of new variety in India where the period of novelty terminates during the period of lockdown (beginning from 25.03.2020) then the period of novelty in respect of such varieties will be computed till 15 days after the lifting of lockdown.

b) OUTSIDE INDIA-NOVELTY

In cases of varieties from outside India, where period of novelty terminates during the period of lockdown in India or outside India, then in such case the novelty would be computed 45 days from the lifting of lockdown, within India or outside India, whichever is later.

Dated: 26.02.2021

PUBLIC NOTICE

(2 of 2021)

Subject :- Farmers' Rights in case of failure of expected performance of a registered variety under given cultivation/ production conditions as per the source of the seed such as Authorised Seller/ Registered Breeder /Agent/Licence-Section 39(2) of PPV&FR Act, 2001 read with Rule 67 of PPVFR Rules 2003.

A farmer has a right to claim for compensation from the authorised producer/ agent/licensee/registered breeder as the case may be, by writing with prima facie evidences to the Authority in Form PV-25, if the registered variety he had purchased from authorised/legitimate agent/licensee of the registered variety, is not performing or did not perform agronomically as claimed on the packaging of the seed. The procedures as described in the Act (Section 39 (2) of PPV&FR Act, 2001 and Rule 67 of PPV&FR Rules, 2003) shall be followed by the Competent Authority before a decision is made to award the compensation as due. The liability of compensation shall be with the Registered Breeder only in event the seed is legitimately sold by an authorised person as in Section 28 (2) or by the Registered Breeder. The liability however, will be lying with the Registered Agent or Registered Licensee only as the case may be, when the seed is sold by the Registered Agent or Registered Licensee.

However, the right for claim of compensation shall not be valid in the case of the crop grown from seed of a registered variety sold either by unauthorised seller (other than authorised, licensed or agent of the registered breeder) or by another farmer (including shared seed/exchanged seed/propagating material) as his farm produce under the farmers' right under Sec 39(1)(iv) of PPV&FR Act, 2001.

Accordingly, the Registered Breeder while executing MoU with the Registered Agent or Licensee or by Licensee of the Registered Agent must incorporate a clause to the affect that the liability to settle the claim of compensation by farmers under Section 39(2) is on the respective Registered Agent/Registered Licensee for the claims limited only to the produce from seed sold by them and not on the Registered Breeders. Registered Breeders may resort to fixing separate trading name by each agent, licensee of the registered variety with its correct denomination and REG No. in paranthesis on each seed packet prominently under "Registered with PPVFRA as _____". in the logo of the Authority (Public Notice 1 of 2021). However, the above is not applicable in the case of Authorised Person(s) authorised for any of the Rights by the Registered Breeder as the latter shall own the liability in the event of a compensatory action, if any, imposed by the Authority in respect of the proceedings on the seed obtained by the farmers from Authorised Person.

PUBLIC NOTICE

(4 of 2022)

Sub: - Registration of Extant varieties belonging to genus or species which has not yet been notified by the Government for registration under PPV&FR Act, 2001.

Interested parties may note that the Gazette notification of a plant species under Section 29 (2) of PPVFRA (2001) is a pre-requisite for receiving applications to register new varieties belonging to the concerned species for protection of plant breeders' rights. The existing plant varieties (extant varieties) already in trade or under exploitation for breeding, at least one year prior to the submission of the application for registration with the Authority even though the species concerned is not notified by the Government for registration, are eligible for registration under PPVFR Act (2001). Therefore, farmers and plant breeders who are desirous of registering such extant varieties of such plant species are hereby informed to contact the Registrar, PPVFRA immediately through email tk.nagarathna@gov.in giving detailed information about the proposed candidate extant variety on the botanical species, its category (variety in common knowledge of farmers or farmers' variety), source of origin (India or abroad), method of propagation, available descriptors of distinguishing genetically inherited morphological characters on individual as well as population of the variety (as recorded by the plant breeder) along with the methodology of recording variations within the character, names of example/reference varieties available in India along with their trait expression data as per distinguishability from the candidate variety, suitable regions and public institutions for conduct of DUS testing, suitability production conditions for optimal agronomic expression in the trials for conduct of DUS tests, etc., in order to facilitate due examination of the extant variety application.

After examining the details provided by the applicant of the extant plant variety, the Registrar shall decide whether or not such an application can be considered for registration or not and take appropriate steps as per law. Farmers or communities of farmers are essentially required to make their queries through the concerned State or Central Agricultural Universities/Institutions as explained in Public Notice 12 of 2020.

PUBLIC NOTICE

(06 of 2024)

The PPVFR Authority in its 38th Meeting held on 06.08.2024, has approved the Establishment and Management of Field Gene Banks (FGBs) for maintenance of Plant varieties registered under PPVFR Act, 2001. The General Guidelines for Establishment and Management and list of Field Gene Banks are enclosed.

(D.K. Agarwal)
Registrar-General

ESTABLISHMENT OF FIELD GENE BANKS BY PPVFR AUTHORITY

Background:

- i. As per Section 27 of the PPVFR Act, 2001. Seeds and planting materials of registered plant varieties are to be maintained in the National Gene Bank of the PPVFRA. The orthodox seeds of registered varieties of seed propagated crops are maintained in the National Gene Bank of the PPVFRA currently located in the ICAR-NBPGR old campus. Field Gene Bank is essentially required where propagules/planting materials of registered varieties in notified crop species can be maintained.
- ii. Out of 197 crop species notified by the PPVFR Authority, 91 species are asexually reproduced/vegetatively propagated. Till date, the Authority has received applications for 793 varieties of asexually/vegetatively propagated crops and issued certificates for 321 varieties. Applications of 472 varieties are in different stages of processing in the Plant Variety Registry and these will be registered in due course.
- iii. Planting materials/propagules of these 321 varieties already registered are to be conserved/maintained in the Field Gene Banks and planting materials of another 472 varieties, which are at different stages of processing, are required to be collected in consultation with the crop specific Principal Investigators of DUS centres, individual applicants and organisations who have endorsed/facilitated farmers' varieties. So far no systematic efforts have been made to maintain the registered varieties of asexually reproduced/vegetatively propagated crops.
- iv. The Authority has already established two Field Gene Banks, one at Regional Horticultural Research and Technology Station (RHRTS) of Dr YS Parmar University of Horticulture and Forestry at Mashobra, HP and another at Dr BS Konkan Krishi Vidya Peeth (BSKKV), Dapoli, Maharashtra. These two FGBs are maintaining reference varieties, germplasm lines/released varieties of mandated crop species in the field. However, these facilities have not been used to conserve/maintain any of the registered varieties.
- v. The Authority has a Branch office located at the campus of Keladi Shivappa Nayaka University of Agricultural and Horticultural Sciences (UAHS), Shivamogga, Karnataka. The University has provided nearly 12 acre of land which can be utilized for creating a Field Gene Bank.
- vi. ICAR Institutes located in different agro-climatic regions of the country are already conserving and maintaining crop specific germplasm collections of various vegetatively propagated crops in the field. These institutes have the required knowledge, expertise and field facility to maintain the planting materials of different varieties registered under PPVFR Act, 2001 with adequate security.

Many of these institutes are also involved in DUS testing of new/extant/farmers' varieties as per PPVFR Act, 2001.

General Guidelines:

- i. Field Gene Banks need to be established at 21 locations in different agro-climatic zones as given in Annexure I to accommodate all varieties of vegetatively propagated crops that are already registered or are in the process of registration, keeping in view the available field facility, expertise/experience and agro-climatic suitability. The assignment of crops to different field gene banks is subject to modification, if needed with due approval of Chairperson.
- ii. These above 21 FGBs include the existing two FGBs of the Authority located at RHRTS, Mashobra and BSKKV, Dapoli. PPVFRA will also utilize the field facility at its branch office at UAHS, Shivamogga as one of the field gene bank to effectively use the land allotted to the Authority. One of the FGBs will be located at ICFRE-IFGTB, Coimbatore to maintain the registered varieties of forestry species of mandated crops. Rest of the FGBs will be located in different ICAR institutes as given in the Annexure I.
- iii. In case of Potato, ICAR-CPRI will be required to maintain the propagules of registered varieties under in vitro conditions.
- iv. The establishment and maintenance of FGBs will be carried out in a project mode. Project proposals will be invited from the identified institutions which will be examined by a Review Committee constituted by the Chairperson, PPVFRA. The Review Committee will be chaired by DDG (Hort.), ICAR. The recommendations of the Review Committee will be placed before the Chairperson, PPVFRA for consideration and approval.
- v. A Memorandum of Agreement will be signed with the institutions /organizations before establishment of the FGBs. Funding support to establish and maintain the FGBs will be provided from the Authority fund.
- vi. The FGBs once established, will immediately collect and maintain the varieties already registered. Further, prior to registration of any variety, the vegetative propagules, as specified in crop wise guideline, which will be notified in the Plant Variety Journal of India, will be submitted to the FGBs by the applicant(s)/registered breeders.
- vii. In future, for registration of varieties of any new crop species, the maintenance of varieties will be assigned to the most suitable FGBs among the 21 FGBs according to agro-climatic requirements.
- viii. The performance of the centres will be monitored annually by the Review committee. This committee will be chaired by DDG (Hort.), ICAR. Release of funds to the FGBs will be effected after receipt of SOE/UC and satisfactory progress report.

- ix. There shall be an assessment after every five years under the Chairmanship of Chairperson, PPVFRA along with the Review committee. The report of the committee will be placed before the Authority for continuation of the FGBs.
